DOG TAX.

We know there is a strong, but—as we believe—mistaken prejudice against taxing dogs. If, however, any one will calculate—even approximately—the number of dogs in this county, most of which are worse than useless, he will see how much tax will add to the school fund. But, some argue that the tax will amount to a mere trifle because rather than pay it, the dogs will be killed; if so sheep raising may be made profitable, and the wool and mutton saved under the operation of the tax, will add no small item to the aggregate value of agricultural products, and if the food given to dogs, were fed to pigs the bulk of pork would be greatly enlarged.

If a man were to travel through the county to get up dog statistics his returns would show the largest proportionate number of dogs among those least able to indulge such a dog-gone d'fancy, and many owning a dog that own nothing else. And, we think, he would report, as time in general, that the number of dogs on every farm, is a good index to the thrift and comfort of the family that harbors them. There are exceptional cases of rich men who keep many dogs to contribute to their passion for sport, but these canines are worse than useless, because they entice their owners from useful employment and encourage neglect of high duties, and ought, therefore, to be taxed not only as a measure of political economy, but as promotive of moral and industry.

In town, there is no apology for keeping dogs, except well trained terriers, or perhaps, poodles to be caressed by fair ladies when their two-legged supplies are out. A good guard dog—like an honest man—has a poor showing among thieves and is sure of a dose of strychnine whenever his honest vigilance becomes known to prowling depredators. If the useful dog is not permitted to live in town, why not tax out of it, the many curs and bench-legged fies whose nightly yelping and howling is a serious annoyance to all who have unbroken slumbers and, especially, to the nervous sick upon whom quiet has no small sanitary influence. What is the difference, in equity, between fining a man for not abating a nuisance, and taxing him for keeping a nuisance on his premises?

If we cannot build the railroads projected for the benefit of Clarksville, suppose we try a steam wagon for the roads running out into the rural districts. There is said to be such a wagon running, or about to run, between Paducah and Nashville, with a capacity of 10,000 pounds of freight, or sixty passengers. Its broad tires will keep turnpikes in good order and, no doubt, in good weather will prove a success on dirt roads. With such a wagon on each of the pikes running to, or across the State line—much freight which goes elsewhere, may be brought here, besides doing a good business in carrying passengers.

We acknowledge our error in stating that the Louisville correspondent, Mr. Merrill, said "Princeton claims 900 inhabitants." He was speaking of Edinville. The error was unintentional, as we believe our neighbor of the Banner thinks. Far be it from us to say or do anything to detract from the reputation of any neighboring town or city. But our slip of the pen will, in this case, do more good than harm, as we gave the Banner man a good chance to set forth the merits of his pretty town and prettier women. If you are not satisfied with this correction, Mr. Banner, meet us at the State line, and let an umpire be appointed to settle the matter.

RAILROAD TAXES.—Next Monday, 7th inst. John R. Martin, railroad tax collector, will proceed to sell certain tracts of land and town lots, so much thereof as will pay the taxes due on them in accordance with an order of the Montgomery county circuit court, made at its May term 1871, and its January term, 1872. These lands and town lots are for sale by taxes due on them for the years 1859, '60, '61, '65, '66, '67, '68, and '69 and the sale will be continued from day to day until all is sold. All parties interested will do well to attend. Any one desiring to have a printed copy of the list will be furnished with one by application at this office.

OUR EXCHANGES.—We send this number of the CHRONICLE to all papers with whom we exchange the same as we did prior to the new postage law. We do not know who desires to keep up an exchange, and therefore send ours as usual, unless notified to the contrary. We are of opinion that the present law will not be enforced a great while, therefore do not see any good reason for discriminating in selecting few of the many whose old, familiar faces we are always glad to see.

A POPULAR HAND BOOK upon the cure and prevention of Cholera, cholera morbus, dysentery and cholera infantum, by J. Winslow Ayer, M. D., of Cincinnati, will be issued this week. Price 50 cents. The author gives a history of this cholera and its ravages in all parts of the world, symptoms and stages of the disease, remedies, disinfectants, etc., to be used. The trade supplied by the Cincinnati News Company.

THE Mayor of Paducah recently issued a proclamation prohibiting the bringing into that city cherries, plums, berries, etc. There is a Miss Cherry, from the above city, on a visit to this country. If the ordinance is kept in force she will be compelled to remain outside the Paducah city limits. There is no prohibition of such choice fruit with us, and we extend her the hospitality of city and county.

ICE WAGON.—Messrs. Settle & Son are now delivering ice to the public at a low price, built for them by Mr. John A. Irwin, of this city. It is a splendid piece of home-made work. We are glad to note that our worthy mechanics are being patronized by our people. We have good workmen here who extend their earnings in our midst, and all such should be liberally sustained.

THE grocery firm of W. McComb & Co., of this city, have a treasurer in the person of Dr. G. C. Dorch, who is one of the most correct business men we have. The systematic style of business in this house, with a corps of competent clerks, make dealing there a pleasure.

THE FOURTH OF JULY.

The declaration of Independence was proclaimed 83 years ago, yesterday. The Cincinnati Enquirer has the following thoughts suggested by a comparison of things then and now:

"Although one hundred years, an even century, will not have elapsed from the date when independence was actually proclaimed, yet we have passed that period which the great revolutionary events created. The fring of the troops upon the people of Boston was in 1770, one hundred and three years ago. What a century has that been to the United States! Imagination usually outruns reality, but this is a case where it falls far short of it. Of all our revolutionary landmarks there were none so far further into the future—none so old left evidences of it—than old John Adams, the second President of the United States. In 1775, when but twenty years old, he wrote a letter to a friend in which he gave a partial foreboding of the future of this country. He had evidently read Bishop Berkeley's poem about 'Westward the star of empire takes its way'; but who could have foreseen the development of the country of which he wrote? Then four months was a passage across the Atlantic. Now it has been bridged by instantaneous telegraph, by a ten day's passage by steamer. There is nothing in all history like the rise and progress of the United States. We have achieved that in a single century which usually requires ten centuries to develop. A hundred years ago we were nothing. Now we are, all things considered, the greatest empire upon the globe, exercising more influence upon current events, 1773-1873—what a mighty chasm separates the periods and marks the passage of time! We can hardly calculate that there was then a generation of that country of which we are so mighty a development! What a wonderful century we have passed and are passing!"

SYNOPSIS of proceedings of the regular meeting of city council:
Mayor Harris being absent by indisposition, Ald. McKeynolds was appointed to act in his stead.
Finance committee reported that ample means were in hand to meet the semi-annual interest due on corporation debt to July 1.
Street committee reported progress of street repairs, and that 68 notices had been served on property-holders to build pavements, and that the legal time in which these pavements are to be completed will expire from the 5th to the 20th inst. The street committee were instructed to advertise for proposals to build the pavements not completed within that time.

Reports of city officers read and referred to the usual committees.
An ordinance prohibiting the sale of fresh fish and fresh pork, was passed as second reading, and takes effect from this date.
THE wholesale and retail grocery trade of this city is conducted upon the most liberal and advanced plan and our dealers in this line take pride in keeping the largest and most varied stocks of the best to be found in other markets, and the competition in trade is not of the under current order, but all endeavor to do a legitimate business, upon fair and high minded principle, thereby giving character to our grocery trade to all the country and markets around us.

PERSONAL.—Our former fellow countryman, Mr. W. G. Whitefield, now of Paducah, paid us a visit this week.
Theo. Hartman, Esq., of railroad notoriety has deserted the wilds of Arkansas, and has concluded to spend a portion of the heated term among his old friends and associates of this city and vicinity. Our latch-string hangs on the outer door subject to your command, old boy.
We made the acquaintance, this week of Mr. Froelich, of Murfreesboro, brother of our townsman, L. Froelich. We learn from him that he was a member of the printing craft in Europe and followed the business for several years in the city of New York. Like a sensible man who wants to make a living, he has turned his attention to a pursuit in which there is more money.

MR. HENRATHY, steward of the Southern Hotel, has sent us a specimen of his early Irish potatoes, one of them measuring six inches in length and seven and a half inches round. It is one of the prettiest potatoes we ever saw. As we are not indulging in this excellent just now we cannot speak of its quality.
FOUND.—We learn from the Dover Record, of the 27th ult., that the body of Mr. McClure, who was knocked into the river here by a piece of falling timber from the railroad bridge, on the 23rd June, was found at the ferry at Dover on the 26th ult. An inquest was held, and a messenger sent to his brother at this place, to notify him of the facts.

HOOK AND LADDER BUILDING.—The building, in the course of erection, on Second street, intended as a hall for the Hook and Ladder Company, is progressing, the framing timbers are on the ground being framed ready to be put up next week. The building will be completed about the first of August. The upper portion of the hall will be used by the Good Templars.

THE laying of the corner stone of St. Peter's M. E. church, colored, was performed last Sunday, Deputy Grand Master, S. R. Walker, of the colored Masonic Fraternity, officiating. Quite a large crowd of both whites and blacks were in attendance. Elder Brooks took up a collection for the benefit of the church, and about $150 was subscribed.

I. O. O. F.—The following is the list of officers of Pythagoras Lodge, No. 23, I. O. O. F., elected Monday, June 30th, for the ensuing term of six months:
B. H. Owen, N. G.
H. H. Lorton, V. G.
John Young, Recording Secretary.
S. E. Adkins, Permanent Secretary.
Jas. Tait, Treasurer.

HON. JAMES MULLINS, late member of Congress and formerly representative from Bedford county in the Tennessee legislature, died in Shelbyville, on the 27th ult. He was collector of internal revenue for that Congressional district at the time of his death.

CHOLERA ITEMS.

The health of our city up to this time is as good as usual, at this season of the year. There is, as we stated last week, a predisposition to flux and dysentery. We learn of one case, that of a negro woman, in the neighborhood of the gas works, who acted very imprudently in eating, was taken down last Sunday. No physician saw her until she was in a decided collapsed state—she died that day. It is believed that the disease, in her case, ran into cholera. Most of the sickness here is confined to the negroes, who, against advice, eat and everything they can get, and as a general thing, do not procure the attention of a physician in the first stages of the disease. The bowel affections among the whites here readily yield to medical treatment, so far.

At Erin, on the railroad below here, there have been nine fatal cases within the last ten days; of this number, four, Mr. John Lockhart, of the firm of Thomas & Lockhart, died on the 24 inst. He was attending to business the day before. Mr. Thomas Gilman, also well the day before, died on the 24. No cases have occurred at the Grand Central Hotel.

In Memphis, there were 19 interments on the 1st inst., of which eight were from cholera.
There were 7 deaths from cholera at Franklin, Ky., on the 1st. Dr. Sudarth, an old physician, among the number.
At Nashville, on the 2d, six deaths occurred—which shows that the terrible disease will soon disappear.

Up to the 2nd inst., there had been 22 deaths at Goodlettsville, 12 miles from Nashville.
The Lebanon Herald, of the 2d inst., reports the total deaths in 24 days at 29, of which 23 were from cholera.
Gallatin advises to the 2nd inst., state only 5 deaths in two days, two of which were cholera.
Seven deaths from cholera at Chattanooga, on the 2nd.
Up to the 2nd inst., 21 deaths had occurred in Murfreesboro, since its appearance there.
No cholera in Waverly, Humphreys county, up to the 2nd inst.

TO OUR SUBSCRIBERS.
In accordance with the new postal law, on and after the first of July those of our subscribers who receive the CHRONICLE from post-offices in Montgomery county, will be required to pay postage. From next number, we will advance at the office where they receive it. Subscribers in the city, who have had their paper delivered at the post office, can save the postage by having their paper put in our delivery box in the CHRONICLE office. We will change the names to our office delivery, of our subscribers, and only recur to it as a reminder.

THE following list of officers for the Hook and Ladder Co., were elected at their meeting last Thursday night, for the next six months:
E. M. Howard, Pres.; L. G. Munford, V. Pres.; J. T. Kennedy, Sec'y; J. M. Reynolds, Financial Sec'y; J. M. House, Treas.; T. Plummer, C. Roberts, J. E. Bibb, Finance Committee.
Jno. H. Duff, Capt.; F. G. Williams, Ladder Director; S. B. Fuqua, Asst. Ladder Director; R. W. Beaumont, Hook Director; Jo. C. Mattill, Buck Director.

LAST Thursday, from 4 until 6 o'clock, P. M., we notified most of the medical profession on the streets idle. This fact speaks well for the health of our city. Persons seeking a healthy location cannot find one more so than Clarksville. True, they may not make as much money here, as at some points, but health outweighs all other considerations.
$100,000 for $50.—Castner & Beaumont, at McComb's grocery, have a few tickets in the Grand Gift Company left, which they propose to sell at the above reduced rate. Now is the time to secure this handsome sum.—Apply immediately, as the office closes at 12 o'clock to-day.

THE following are the officers elected by the Building and Loan Association, for the ensuing twelve months:
J. P. Y. Whitfield, Pres.; W. E. Ely, Sec. and Receiver, A. Howell, Treasurer.
BOARD OF CONTROL.—J. P. Y. Whitfield, W. C. Barksdale, H. C. Merritt, H. Fresh and S. Rexinger.

QUARTERLY MEETING.—On account of the District Conference at Bethel, which commences on the 11th inst., the quarterly meeting at the M. E. Church, in this city, is postponed to 19th and 20th inst.

THE annual picnic, by the Catholics of this city, will take place Thursday, August 7.

MARRIED.
In this county, on the 24 inst., by Elder J. M. House, Mr. J. E. Young, of this city, to Miss Rebecca L. Davis, of Montgomery county.

THIS congenial, happy couple have at last consummated their earthly bliss. May it continue through life, as hand in hand they go, and ultimate in all the joys of a happy reunion in the life to come.

In this county, on the 19th ult., at the residence of N. J. Mills, by S. S. Mallory, Esq., Mr. R. T. Porter, and Miss Jennie Mallory, both of this county.

May their joys be many, their sorrows few, and peace attend the path they pursue.

DURING THE fever epidemic of last month, the stock of Ayer's Aque Care in the Old North Store became exhausted, and before a supply could be received from Lowell, the suffering from chills and fever became fearful. A few parties were so fortunate as to have it on hand, and in Fredrick County, the druggists asked out their spare drug stocks by selling doses—a spoonful each—for a dollar. Many paid ten dollars each for a bottle, when the regular price is but one, and thought themselves favored at that, so valuable are the curative properties of this preparation, which not only expels the poison from the system, but leaves the patient with unimpaired health and vigor.—Raleigh (N. C.) Standard.
